

Your Legal Rights - know where you stand, with Maurice Blackburn Lawyers

Whether you have been recently diagnosed with scleroderma or have been living with scleroderma for some time, it is important to understand your options when it comes to financial and legal matters.

Early access to your superannuation account balance, and claiming on income protection insurance or valuable lump sum insurance provided through your super fund can make a huge difference to your financial wellbeing, and the range of choices available to you and your family

If you've been a victim of personal injury, you may be entitled to compensation under various avenues. Accessing these entitlements can aid your treatment, rehabilitation and recovery while providing financial support and certainty to you and your family.

Estate planning is also an essential part of making sure you control who makes decisions for you and how your family is protected. Preparing a will, and appointing a Power of Attorney who can assist you if you are unable to make decisions for yourself can provide certainty and positively impact your wellbeing and quality of life.

Please join Katherine Bedford, Anita Arian and Laura Evans-McKendry from Maurice Blackburn Lawyers to find out more about these important subjects and take the opportunity to ask the questions most important to you during the interactive Q&A.

Presenters

Katherine Bedford
Associate

Kathy Bedford is an Associate in Maurice Blackburn's superannuation and insurance practice in Melbourne. After a successful career as a broadcaster and nurse, Kathy completed her Bachelor of Laws with Honours at Deakin University in 2014, where she was the top student.

“I thrive on the complex and challenging nature of superannuation and insurance law; making sense of the convoluted language used in insurance policies that are seemingly designed to confuse and shut out potential claimants,” says Kathy.

Laura Evans-McKendry
Senior Associate

Laura Evans-McKendry is a highly experienced Senior Associate who specialises in all aspects of Wills and Estate Planning, including drafting of Wills and Powers of Attorneys, and challenging a Will. She is based in Maurice Blackburn's Melbourne office, and provides legal services and representation to clients throughout Victoria.

“Wills and estates is an area of law that is likely to impact everyone at some point in their lives and it is satisfying to be able to help people navigate the necessary legal processes.”

Anita Arian
Lawyer

Anita Arian is an experienced asbestos and dust diseases lawyer based in Maurice Blackburn's Melbourne office. She specialises in asbestos and other dust disease compensation claims and has extensive experience in this area.

“I understand the difficulties that victims and surviving family members face when dealing with dust-related disease. I am driven everyday by my clients and my strong sense of social responsibility - to ensure those disadvantaged in our community have access to justice and legal representation.”
